Judith Ravensbergen
Private Banker, RBC Wealth Management
Royal Bank of Canada (RBC)

Judith Ravensbergen brings more than 25 years of experience in banking and financial markets to her role as Senior Private Banker. She provides comprehensive financial management and trusted advisory services for high net worth families.

Ms. Ravensbergen began her career with RBC managing several branches in the Montreal area. She then spent a number of years with RBC Capital Markets, trading and marketing foreign exchange, money market products, and commodities. After moving to Calgary in 1996, she helped to design and implement customized risk management solutions for multinational corporations.

In 2006 Ms. Ravensbergen joined RBC Private Banking. Together with a team of specialists, she offers high touch banking, personalized credit solutions and the full scope of advisory services; cash flow, tax, estate, risk management, investment and financial planning and intergenerational wealth transfer planning.

Ms. Ravensbergen holds a Commerce degree and an MBA from Concordia University. She is an accredited Financial Planner and standing member of IFEA (Institute of Family Enterprise Advisors). She recently completed her Family Enterprise Advisor designations at the UBC Sauder School of Family Business.

Judith's passion is helping families thrive both financially and personally. She firmly believes that a healthy family and a healthy business are both achievable. Judith fundraises, volunteers and provides board support for a number of not for profit organizations. In her spare time, she loves being in the great outdoors with her family.
