Daryl Hanak joined the Alberta Government trade policy team in 1993 in what was then the Ministry of Federal and Intergovernmental Affairs. In his capacity as International Trade Counsel he provided advice to the provincial government on international trade negotiations and agreements, particularly in the areas of investment and services. He was appointed Executive Director, Trade Policy in the Alberta Ministry of International and Intergovernmental Relations in 2007. He continues in that role in the Ministry of Economic Development and trade, coordinating Alberta's approaches to and participation in international trade agreements, negotiations and disputes.

Prior to working with joining the Alberta Government's trade policy shop in 1993, he worked with the Alberta Securities Commission, the Alberta Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, and in private legal practice. He obtained his LL.B and MBA degrees from the University of Alberta.
