

2017 Canadian Inland Ports Conference

Alex Phillips
President and CEO
Van Horne Institute

In his career, Alex has provided legal, economic, regulatory, policy and strategy advice on trade, transportation, utility and infrastructure issues, including network access and competition issues that affect air, rail and motor transport carriers, resource shippers, freight forwarders, airports, ports, electricity grids, and related supply chain stakeholders (i.e. regulatory compliance managers, regulatory agencies and government departments).

Team player with general counsel capabilities to mitigate regulatory risks, ensure compliance, build stakeholder consensus, reform government policy, redefine company strategy, promote market access and improve competitiveness.

Education: B. Commerce (Hons) (gold medalist) & LL.B. (Manitoba); Master's degree in airline deregulation – LL.M. (1st class LSE U.K.); Doctorate in international trade law and infrastructure privatization (i.e. determining competitive access rights to essential facilities underpinning trade and transportation, such as pipelines, electricity grids, railways, ports & airports) – S.J.D. (Bond Law School scholarship, Australia)

Alex is also member of the Law Societies of Alberta, B.C. and Manitoba.