

HOWARD GREEN BIO

Howard Green is a bestselling author and award-winning broadcaster. He was founding anchor at Business News Network, Canada's business television channel where he hosted the flagship interview program, Headline. During his fifteen years there, he conducted approximately fourteen-thousand interviews with CEOs, leading policy makers and money managers. Among his many guests were Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan, British Prime Minister Tony Blair and Sir Richard Branson.

Howard is the recipient of the Gemini Award, Canada's top television prize. He's also a two-time Emmy Award Nominee and has been a Finalist for the National Business Book Award. His third and most recent book is Railroader: The Unfiltered Genius and Controversy of Four-Time CEO Hunter Harrison. It was published in September and was an immediate, number one national bestseller.
