

Mary Ballantyne is the Director, International Trade Policy, in the Trade Policy Branch of the Alberta department of Economic Development and Trade. She has held this position since July 2016. As part of her responsibilities, she has participated in the current North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) negotiations, representing Alberta and coordinating Alberta's input in the negotiations.

From 2013 to 2016, Mary was the Director, Alberta-US Relations, in the Alberta Office in Washington, DC. The Alberta Washington Office, which is co-located in the Canadian Embassy, promotes Alberta's political and economic interests, both in DC and in other U.S. regions and states. During this time, Mary supported the Office's Managing Director and promoted Alberta's trade, energy, and other interests in the U.S.

Prior to that, Mary worked in Edmonton, Alberta, in the Trade Policy Section of the Alberta Ministry of International and Intergovernmental Relations. During her time in trade policy, she has worked on identifying and promoting Alberta's export and tariff reduction priorities in international trade negotiations, as well as the province's interests in specific trade initiatives, including the proposed Canada-China negotiations and the Canada-European Union Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA).

Mary has an undergraduate degree in Political Science and a Masters of Business Administration, both from the University of Alberta in Edmonton.
